

Supreme Court Justices, Appellate Court Judges, and Circuit Court Judges Assuming Office On or After July 30, 1979

Disability Retirement Requirements

If eligible, Justices and Judges who have served five or more years may retire on disability. Previous service as a District Judge, Probate Judge, and/or ERS or TRS transfer service is included in the service requirement of five or more years. The Justice or Judge must be unable to perform his or her duties on a full-time basis due to becoming permanently disabled, either physically or mentally. Proof of this disability must be certified by three reputable physicians.
